Community Matters

Guess Who's Coming to Dinner?

Connecting with organizations like CCYP makes our community stronger.

CEO John Pappalardo hosted some of Cape Cod's most prestigious business and nonprofit leaders in an intimate setting this spring at the annual Cape Cod Young Professionals (CCYP) "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner?" event.

John opened his home for a dinner gathering where attendees learned about his work experiences and secrets to success. They also had an opportunity to engage with fellow CCYP members and discuss their own career paths; whether they are still on them or have already reached their goals!
